Withdraws Suit Asking Divorce Filed Following Slaying of Brother, Alleged to Have Been Done By Husband.

As intimated in this paper several days ago, Mrs. Thomas Insley yesterday took an order in the district court dissolving her action for divorce against her husband brought just after the killing of her brother, John Higgins, attempted to have been done by Insley.

Mrs. Insley claims that the bringing of her suit for divorce was influenced by members of her family. It is known that she has visited her husband in jail on more than one occasion since his incarceration, taking with her the body that has been of the imminent cause of so much of the domestic trouble.

The dismissal of the suit for divorce removes any possible chance that there may have been that Mrs. Insley would be a witness for the prosecution on the trial of her husband. Inasmuch as she was the only witness to the tragedy, it is understood easily that if the suit had proceeded and a divorce decree had been rendered, a strong effort would have been made by counsel not to testify to what occurred in the still quiet hour when the fatal shot was fired.

COUNTRY CLUB IS SUGGESTED

Proposition to Establish Golf Links in Albuquerque Has Brought Up Question of Erecting Home on Heights.

At a meeting of the golf committee of the commercial club last night, held for the purpose of considering whether golf links shall be established in Albuquerque, the proposition was suggested that if the enterprise be undertaken at all it be undertaken on a large scale, and that a country club be built, with golf links, tennis courts and other amusement accommodations adjoining.

A. D. McClintock was elected president and John Lee Clark, secretary of the golf committee, the other members present being J. H. O'Riley, Hermann Schowenker and T. S. Woolsey, Jr. The committee has already ready rough plans for a country club which, if built, will be on the University Heights, with street car facilities to transport members and guests. El Paso, Phoenix, Bisbee and various other southwestern towns have country clubs and it is quite likely a determined effort will be made to put one over for Albuquerque.
